Growers Talk 'Fly Thursday

Glades growers will have the opportunity of presenting a simplified certification for moving vegetables out of the Medfly quarantine area, at a special meeting to be held next Thursday at the county agricultural building on Military Trail, West Palm Beach.

Arrangements for the meeting were made by Congressman Paul Rogers, who said that representatives of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the State Plant Board will meet with vegetable growers.

Growers have complained the present fumigation of certain produce to meet quarantine certification adds 10 days to the life of vegetables before shipment, the process requiring exposure to extreme heat for three hours in air-tight chambers immediately after harvest.

Growers will recommend they be granted okay certificates upon their adding malathion to their spray routine in weekly and semi-weekly spraying and for host plant areas to be sprayed by plane, according to Rogers.

He said the expense of this plan, which would require a force of men with a certain number of fields to inspect, would be borne partly by the farmer.

Belle Glade Firm Handles Big Medfly 'Secticide Order

BELLE GLADE — Playing a major role in the geared-up fight against the Mediterranean Fruit Fly is the Belle Glade plant of Re-Mark Chemical Co., Inc., which has been given the task of mixing raw Malathion fluid with ingredients to make it into a portable granular solid.

From Re-Mark's Belle Glade plant comes all of the Malathion mix being used on the concentrated spraying of the highly infested 180,000 acres from below Miami to West Palm Beach and as far inland as 20 miles.

According to Howard Holman, Pahokee chemical veteran who has managed Re-Mark's plant here since February, his company entered the 'Medfly picture when its bid to mix the Malathion was accepted by United Hockethorn Corp. of California, which has the overall contract from the U.S. government in the spray battle against the Medfly.

Holman says his company will mix 800,000 lbs. of 25% Malathion in 18,000 50-lb. bags. This will suffice for the scheduled three sprayings of the Miami-West Palm Beach stretch. The operation has been a shot-in-the-arm for the muscle-flexing Re-Mark company's summer operations. It'll take the company about 30 days to complete the mixing program. The Belle Glade staff and crew, which numbered about five persons during the season, was upped to 14 a couple of weeks ago when the Malathion mixing was begun on a 24-hour 'round-the-clock' schedule.

Holman and six helpers have maintained one shift and have been spelled by a second 7-man crew headed by Rodney Connell, ex-Pahokian now living in Belle Glade.

Raw materials for the Re-Mark work include 500-lb. barrels of 95% technical Malathion trucked in from Brewster, Fla. Dilux powder brought by rail from Quincy, Fla., and Polyfon-F trucked from West Virginia.

The Malathion concentrate is mixed with the highly absorbent Dilux, which takes it out of the liquid classification and makes a solid of it. Then the Polyfon-F, a dispersing agent, is added.

Re-Mark's finished product is then shipped to the Marine Air Base at Opa-locka, just outside Miami and the headquarters of the Medfly aerial operations. Here the mixture is diluted in water, a bait sauce is added, and the stuff is piped aboard the spraying planes.

Re-Mark made its appearance on the Glades industrial scene only last September (it's home office is in Miami). Located in the packing house area of Belle Glade, the company is in the process of doubling its plant area and equipment along both sides of a railroad spur line. It expects the expansion program to be completed by Aug. 1, with a five-roller Raymond pulverizer, said to be the biggest of its kind in place and ready to grind out 75% DDT. Financier Arthur Vining Davis recently purchased a large block of stock in the company.

PAHOKEE FFA GETS SUPERIOR RATING

The Pahokee chapter, Future Farmers of America, received a superior rating on the year's accomplishments at the state meet in Daytona Beach last week. Last year the rating was standard.

L. E. O'Neal, chapter advisor, is helping to carry on a summer program here. The members have been removing malden cane from their property, and have been spraying the cattle, treating them for scree worms, marking them by tattooing the ears, and have put horn weights on the purebred animals. The chapter now owns 89 head of cattle.

Tutors Head For Summer Vacation

What happens to Glades schoolmarms and schoolpads during summer vacation? Well, a good many of 'em in Belle Glade and Pahokee are staying right here in the Glades.

Excitement has come for some of them already. The Misses Margaret Powell and Marian Najarian, music directors the past year at Pahokee and Belle Glade schools, respectively, are taking a three-weeks TV course at the University of Miami. Miss Powell was shown briefly on Channel 4 Tuesday evening.

From Pahokee schools, Marvin Thompson is studying Spanish at the University of Mexico in Mexico City. Bob Shaw and Thomas Kubel will attend the University of North Carolina. Mrs. Anne Donehue, the University of Georgia, and Francis Hoagland at Florida State University, where he'll work toward a master's degree.

Donald Robinson will be at Ft. Bliss, Tex., serving in the Army. Mrs. Rita Sims and Marty Bridges at their 'homes in Indiana.' and Miss Barbara Myatt in Delray Beach.

From Belle Glade, Mrs. Henry Earwood will attend summer school at the University of Florida and Miss Viola Eason at the University of Alabama. Harris Francis will visit in Anniston, Ala. Mrs. Ruth Langworthy in Marshallville, Ga. the Roy Litchfields in North Carolina and New England.

Miss Fanny White's destination was Paris — Tennessee, while Mrs. E. J. Rogers planned to visit in Lakeland and the midwest. Frank Sauer and Cynthia Slater went to their homes in West Palm Beach.

O'CONNELL WANTS A CBI

WEST PALM BEACH — Testimony on Glades gambling activity from Negro witnesses George Washington, Jr., of Pahokee and Gus Torrence, Eugene Lang and others of Belle Glade and South Bay in the trial of T. Harold Williams has thrown a significant spotlight on the proposal made Monday at the county commission meeting by State Attorney Phil O'Connell.

O'Connell proposed establishment of a criminal bureau of investigation for Palm Beach County. He said the county bureau which would provide special investigations for the sheriff's department, state attorney's office and the county solicitor, should be set up as a central agency similar to Dade County's bureau of investigation which was set up by a legislative act.

Organization of the bureau as proposed by O'Connell provides for employment of three special investigators, drawing an annual salary of $7,500 and also for the employment of administrative help to run the office. O'Connell said he believed the bureau would be welcomed and appreciated by all county law enforcement officers and that he would be the first to criticize any official who didn't take advantage of the facilities such a bureau would have available.

He emphasized that the bureau "has got to work in complete cooperation of the sheriff's department."

SB GROWERS' COOLER 'COOLEST'

SOUTH BAY — What has been termed "the most modern hydro cooler in Florida" has stood the test of three months peak-season performance at South Bay Growers, Inc.

Installation of the upwards-of-$150,000 pre-cooling system began in March, and the new system was in operation by April.

It was designed and sold by the W. L. Filbert Company of Miami, whose sales manager, Larry Kelly, says it is not only the most modern but is the most efficient of its kind in the state.

The system has a normal capacity of pre-cooling 2500 crates per hour, as compared

Waters Of Okeechobee At Low -- Stir Memories

Lake Okeechobee this week may have reached an all-time low water-level record as predicted recently by GLADES OBSERVER.

Lowest level recorded by the U.S. Corps of Engineers in Clewiston was 10.5 feet above sea level in 1932 when the lake was purposely drained to construct the dike on eastern and southern shores.

KWIK CHEK IN BELLE GLADE?

BELLE GLADE — Rumors that a major grocery supermarket chain would establish itself in the Glades retail picture are more than mere rumors, GLADES OBSERVER learned yesterday.

Official announcement of the sale of Royal's Super Market to Winn-Dixie Grocery Co., operator of Kwik Chek grocery stores throughout Florida, is expected to be made next week — if final details are satisfactorily worked out — according to Royal's officials in Belle Glade.

Contacted in Miami, Winn-Dixie officials confirmed that discussions on the purchase have been held, but that it still has to be "wrapped up."

Winn-Dixie, known for its asstute grocery operations, is no stranger to the Glades. Its buyers operate in this area during the vegetable season, placing volume orders on Glades produce.

Pahokee Firemen Quell Blaze

PAHOKEE — Quick action by Fire Chief Marvin Levis and his crew kept damage at a minimum in a fire which broke out Saturday night at the Arch Blakey filling station on Lake Ave.

According to Levis, the fire was extinguished about 15 or 20 minutes after his men directed water hoses on flames. Merchandise within the station was destroyed, but flames were kept from gasoline tanks and pumps.

Vacant living quarters on the second floor were damaged by smoke.

"Hub" Spooner, Belle Glade: "I don't know when the lake's been lower. Why, I was fishing at Taylor Cr. recently when a bass struck at the fly and in the process kicked up dust!"

"Seriously, I can remember in '28 when the water was so high that it was impossible to get during the hurricane that grass was left dangling on telephone poles between Belle Glade and Clewiston when the water receded."

Roscoe Braddock, Belle Glade:

"When water was drawn out of the lake to build the dike in 1932 you could walk from Torrey Island to Ritter Island, with the water in the muddy channel to contend with."

"In 1922-23, the level was down so low that we had to almost overnight the water rose six feet. Before the rains came, you could drive a truck from the mainland to Torrey Island. With the rains, cattle had to be moved off the island, and you had to swim the horses to get them off."

"One fact about our dry spell: dryer grass has better fattening quality for cattle than when grass is full of water. But with the lake so low as now, recession of land is occurring. It took hours of work to feed to Frankmuck. Now we're losing elevation, caused by water being out of and air going into, the muck."

A compilation on weekly readings around the lake last Thursday by the engineers gave a composite depth of 10.6 feet, according to the Clewiston office. Tuesday readings at hurricane gates at Okeechobee and Colah Haven produced an average depth of 10.37 feet, with additional readings to be compiled at one-mighty lake set a lot of long-time Glades residents to dreaming of the old days when Okeechobee was high — and low. Here are some of their comments:

Depth-per-week drop of 2 feet reported by engineers a fortnight ago has been slowed up by some showers in the Okeechobee watershed.

Contemplating the low level of the lake, one might like to set a lot of long-time Glades residents to dreaming of the old days when Okeechobee was high — and low. Here are some of their comments:

B. Elliott, Pahokee:

"I've never seen it lower than it is now. I remember it was during the 1928 hurricane when its depth was 21.6 feet."

R. Hooker, Chocoma:

"The lake used to be so low that you could cultivate land out beyond Kreamer and Torrey islands. That's where the first farming in the Glades was done."

"Aunt Joder" Upthegrove, Pahokee:

"I can remember about 40 years ago when you could wade about two miles out from Upthegrove Beach with water never any higher than your neck."

"In about 1912 water was so high that we had to wade to rescue people from roofs of a two-story house. At an ice plant at old Ft. Thompson, on the Colah Haven, we had to wade. We loaded ice into our fishing boat directly from a second-story window."

"For awhile we thought we'd better leave this country, thinking there'd never be dry land here."

"Hub" Spooner, Belle Glade: "I don't know when the lake's been lower. Why, I was fishing at Taylor Cr. recently when a bass struck at the fly and in the process kicked up dust!"

"Seriously, I can remember in '28 when the water was so high that it was impossible to get during the hurricane that grass was left dangling on telephone poles between Belle Glade and Clewiston when the water receded."

Students Learn 300 Bible Verses

LAKE HARBOR — As a reward for having memorized 300 Bible verses each, four youngsters from Lake Harbor are this week spending an outing at the Children's Bible Mission Camp at Polk City.

They are Linda Plank, Bonnie and Ann Rayburn, and Marlene Taylor.

The girls were among 65 youths enrolled at the Lake Harbor school who studied the Bible through the school year from Miss Nina Briggs of Pahokee, representative of the Children's Bible Mission whose home office is in Lakeland.

ALL SMILES over their $150,000 hydro cooling system at South Bay Growers, Inc. are L. to R. C. A. "Mutt" Thomas, president; I. W. CURRENTLY Concern was expressed recently at a Pahokee chamber meeting and at a session of the Belle Glade city commission that people will get the idea, from reading big city newspaper accounts of the T. Harold Williams trial, that nothing but gambling occurs in the Glades.

Our guess is that all communities of the county will be smeared before the Williams trial is concluded. Meanwhile, it would be fine if the populace could be duly impressed with the tremendous monetary gamble annually in the Glades — the money gambled on each succeeding crop.

In case you wondered, the "amateur" rhythmic that produced the "trip-to-the-moon" data on dollar bills here last week was ours, not Bank of Pahokee's. The rhythmic, that is.

Florida's '55 sugar cane crop produced 119,000 tons of raw sugar from 1,160,000 tons of cane grown on 34,800 acre. Crop value was $8,978,000. That ain't bad, Sugar. No, 'tis sugar, Sugar.

PLAY BALL: This is the season of the year when baseball managers start bragging or crying — according to their team's league standing. And Syd Harlow is crying. He is again the manager of the Democrats ball team. And next week, his nine muscle bound Congressmen will take the field against an equally decrepit bunch of Republicans. How either team has ever won a game is more than most Washingtonians can figure. But it's all for charity. And every one seems to have a lot of fun — except next day when the congressmen suffer from sore backs and feet.

Usually at this time of year, Syd is predicting another victory — but this time he is complaining—which is the football coach's technique. This year Dean Fassel is to be one of his star players—but Syd doesn't know who else will play. So far, he has called four players—and each time a different crowd shows up. Prediction: The game will look like a send-off affair—and bring in much fun. (And what better can you say about any ball game?)

COOL, MAN, COOL: Congressman Charlie Bennett has just helped push through a bill that will allow the government to air-conditioned post office buildings in areas of "excessive heat." Charlie usually tells people how cool Jacksonville is in the summertime—and brags on the Florida climate. But our guess is that the Jacksonville post office will be one of those to be air-conditioned. After all, Bennett's summer office is located there. And it should be comfortable for all his constituents who call on him for one sort of business or another.

HOLLAND TO CHICAGO: Senator Holland has been invited to go to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago as an "alternate" delegate, but he hasn't said "yes" yet. In 1952 he was a member of the platform subcommittee and was one of the leaders who fought the loyalty pledge. But because he didn't take an active part in the recent presidential preference race in Florida, friends think he won't be interested in the Chicago trip. Probably he will prefer to watch it on television.

SEEN ON CAPITOL HILL: Jerry Carter was in town last week. He recently won back his seat as Democratic National Committeeman for Florida — and probably will be a familiar figure again on Capitol Hill. Here to talk about politics and patronage—mostly patronage.

Five Rules For Cattle Health

GAINESVILLE — Concentrating farm animals encourages the rapid spread of diseases, warns Veterinarian M. Ristic with the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station.

He says the best practice is to control diseases before they spread by following five simple disease prevention rules.

First, isolate all newly acquired animals, then treat them for tuberculosis, brucellosis, leptospirosis and other common animal ailments. Second, calves should be raised in individual pens, or the number in each pen should be restricted.

Dr. Ristic's third point for livestock health is to give hogs all the routine vaccinations. Fourth, high standards of cleanliness and nutrition should be set by the individual stockman.

The animal researcher's fifth point is that farmers should seek the aid of the local veterinarian for a regular check of the farm or ranch for possible weak points in the disease control program. Such a program should include herd health records, standards and farm sanitation, Dr. Ristic said.

LT. McCURDY NOW SERVING IN KOREA

...THY DIV. KOREA — Army 2d Lt. Willard W. McCurdy, Jr., whose mother, Mrs. Sarah A. McCurdy, lives in Pahokee, Fla., recently arrived in Korea and is now a member of the 7th Infantry Division.

Lieutenant McCurdy, a platoon leader in Company G of the division's 17th Regiment, entered the Army in October 1955 and received officers basic training at Fort Benning, Ga.

He is a 1955 graduate of the University of Florida and a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

MUMPS

Mumps usually occurs between five and fourteen years of age and is generally classified among the childhood diseases.

Caused by a virus, mumps affects primarily the glands in front of the ears. These glands, with others under the tongue and lower jaw, produce saliva and when infected, they enlarge.

The most notable signs of mumps are marked swelling of the glands together with fever which may continue for one or five days. In some cases, there is considerable pain and the area is tender.

The swelling appears from 12 to 26 days after exposure to the disease. Frequently both sides of the face are involved. The difficulty of eating and talking seems to be the chief immediate complaint of mumps victims.

While few persons die from the disease, special attention should be given to the patient with mumps. As severe as the swelling is present, the patient should be in bed even though there is no serious complaint of discomfort.

Complications sometimes associated with mumps may result, particularly in the adolescent and adult, in serious involvement of the sex glands, an occasional cause of sterility. In this group of patients, there is usually more pain and fever and swelling of the reproductive organs of the body.

While mumps has been known to recur, usually an immunity is established by the first attack. However, when only one side of the face has been affected, there is always the possibility of the other being infected later.

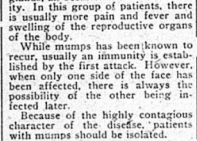

Because of the highly contagious character of the disease, patients with mumps should be isolated.

Summer Report:

'Best Year' Ahead For Glades Area Girl Scouts

Fantasy fills a large part of a little girl's "growing up" years. It's vitally important that she have a guidance program. And for her vivid imagination, it's important that she be sparked with healthful ideas — intangibles she can reach for, and grasp.

All these things girl scout leaders attempt to provide.

Following a belief expressed in the "South Pacific" song, "you've got to be taught before it's too late," girl scout leaders strive to give little girls a comprehensive program which allows them to live a full life based on greater, wider, youthful experiences.

And because Glades communities have united their girl scout efforts with those of the county's east coast cities, little girls in Pahokee, Belle Glade and Clewiston have a very bright scout program available for them next year.

With the Glades scouting program on the verge of a golden era, history of Pahokee girl scout troops is typical of the struggles of many, many women in their respective communities down through the years to make a comprehensive program a reality.

Girl scouting in Pahokee has been around since its first inception 20 years ago. But as each adult woman and each growing child participated in the program, another link was added to the scout foundation.

A basic ingredient to a successful scouting program seems to have been guidance from a trained, professional girl scout official. The Glades area now has this year-round link under the Palm-Glades Council formed in January.

The first girl scout troop was begun in Pahokee in 1938 and lasted for five years under the enthusiastic and capable leadership of Mrs. Dan Carpenter. She had various assistants, including Mrs. Bill Willis and Mrs. Donald McKenzie, and the PTA sponsorship. Some of its 35 members were Mrs. Dortha Carpenter Denton, Mrs. Lois Byrd Mock, Irma Justice, Inez Maloy, Willet Maloy, and Joy

MRS. SCHRODER IS HONORED

Vena Tiffin Schroder, whose picture and autobiography appears in "Vol. 1 of 'Florida Women of Distinction,' by Eloise N. Cozzen, was chosen for this honor because of the part she has played in helping to develop a frontier section of the Glades by her activities in church, civic and fraternal organizations.

Mrs. Schroder came to Pahokee in 1924, when the Glades were a pioneer section and America's last frontier. She taught in the village school when it was very difficult to secure teachers for this section as there were no modern conveniences here at the time. During this time she helped organize, and participated in a dramatic club which tried to furnish entertainment for the pioneers.

In 1927 she and Robert J. Schroder were married, and when their son, Bobby, came along Mrs. Schroder organized and taught a kindergarten class. Later she helped to start Cub scouting in this area, serving as one of the first den mothers.

She is past president of Pahokee Woman's Club, one of the oldest clubs in the Glades, and was recently honored with other members for 30 years of active service in the club. She is also past president of Pahokee Parent-Teacher Association, which she helped organize. In the early days she sponsored the organization and served as president of the Mothers Club. She is a charter member of the Pahokee Eastern Star chapter, and was recently presented with a year pin. She is also a charter member of Pahokee Canal Point Garden Club and served as officer in the club for many years.

Mrs. Schroder, vitally interested in the health of the community, served for four years as a member of the Northwestern Palm Beach County Public Hospital Board, the sponsoring organization of the Hospital Auxiliary and served as its director since its organization. She has served as vice president of the Palm Beach County Federation of Women's Clubs and parliamentarian of the same organization.

As a member of the Area Mis-grant Committee she has been active in migrant work for many years. She is a member of the Ground Observer Corps in Civil Defense and has been active in Red Cross first aid classes, and membership drives and in Pahokee Chamber of Commerce membership drives.

Mrs. Schroder's first love, however, is her church. She is a member of Pahokee First Methodist Church, and teacher of an adult women's Bible class, with an enrollment of some 70 women. She is a member of the official board of the church, chairman of the commission on finance, and serves as a member of the committee on missions. She is a charter member of the Women's Society of Christian Service, and holds a life membership in the organization.

She is also on the staff of the Miami Herald, having been a part of this Florida paper for 26 years.

According to Mrs. Cozzen, editor of "Florida Women of Distinction," nominations for the honor were made by Chambers of Commerce, universities, judges and others of prominence, and the book will be made available to all state libraries, colleges and chambers of commerce. Mrs. Schroder was chosen along with 212 other women throughout the state for this honor.

FATHER PETRIE ON LOYALTY COMMITTEE

Father John Clarence Petrie, vicar of St. John the Apostle Episcopal Church, has been appointed by Hon. George Carver, president of the Florida State Elks Association, to serve on the Americanization Committee.

Among the duties he will have on this committee is the emphasis of lodge and community programs to combat subversive activities inside the United States; to encourage patriotic programs, such as the annual Flag Day programs held by all Elk lodges during the past week; to encourage citizens to display the flag at their homes and places of business on patriotic holidays.

Father Petrie has for many years been an active worker in the fight against the infiltration of Communism into American life through the medium of the church. His area as a worker on this committee is the south central division of the Florida Elks Association. R. N. White of Plant City is state chairman.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GROUP,
Canal Point

The everpresent power of Christ's healing will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" will include Christ Jesus' instruction to his disciples (Luke 10:9): "And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The Kingdom of God is come nigh unto you."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health in Accordance with the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, is the following (98:15): "Beyond the frail premises of human belief, above the loosening grasp of creeds, the demonstration of Truth and healing stands a revealed and practical Science. It is imperious throughout all ages as Christ's revelation of Truth and Love, and of Love, which remains inviolate for every man to understand and to practice."

EXPANSION PLANS TOPIC
AT COMMUNITY CHURCH

Rev. H. E. Garrett will preach Sunday at the 11 o'clock worship service at Community Methodist Church in Belle Glade on "You Count With God." In the evening the sermon will be on "Look Up, Laugh, Love, and Lift." Special music will be furnished in the evening by a trio composed of Marianne Womack, Glada Dell and Jo Margaret Parson.

An important business meeting of the church will be held Sunday immediately following the morning service. At that time the official board will present to the membership detailed plans concerning the enlargement of the physical facilities of the church.

Jerry Barry, who graduated this week from Northwestern University will serve the church during the summer as youth director. He will begin his duties this Sunday and has wonderful plans for the summer youth program.

Daily vacation Bible school will be held this year from July 30 to Aug. 4 with Mrs. Herbert Beck in charge of the junior department. Mrs. Verne Boot primary department, and Mrs. Larry Royal the kindergarten.

Big Year

1950-51 was a peak year thus far in the number of Pahoekie troops, both Brownie and intermediate scouts. One week of professionally guided training was given to Belle Glade, Clewiston and Pahoekie leaders in Belle Glade. Under the able guidance of Mrs. Grady Barker, six Pahoekie troops were formed. Mrs. Martha McIntosh was vice chairman of the local committee and Mrs. Barbara Wilder, secretary and treasurer, with Ed Jensen as finance chairman.

The success of the troops was dependent not only upon the local committee officers and leaders, but also upon the assistance rendered by the troop committees which each troop had. Each committee was composed of three adults. Through the entire Girl Scout program these committee members furnished unlimited aid to leaders and girls alike with finances, transportation, enthusiasm and encouragement.

In 1952, Mrs. Dean Wilson was Pahoekie chairman. The following year, Mrs. Mendall Luce, with the help of Mrs. Wilma Alley, offered a Brownie program to fourth graders. No more troops were formed after this. There were fewer troops in Pahoekie than in the past. Under a lone troop system, guidance and training were difficult to obtain. By this time, too, the national organization no longer had professionals who could run about the country offering training courses.

During the time 1946 through 1955, however, the ground-work was being laid by people in the Glades and the Palm Beach area to start an area council. Thus, by pooling information and resources, the towns of Palm Beach County and Clewiston and Moore Haven in January, 1956 formed the Palm-Glades Girl Scout Council.

Current Leaders

Under the present Council set-up Pahoekie has what is similar to the "old committee," it is now called the Neighborhood Association. Its officers are the neighborhood chairman, Mrs. C. Canipe (who also represents Pahoekie on the area planning committee from 1948 to 1956); neighborhood troop organizer, Mrs. Dick Parrish; neighborhood troop consultant, Mrs. Donna Plumer; finance chairman, Mrs. Joe Tom Boynton; troop committee members: Mrs. Hugh Branch, Mrs. Oliver Pierce, Mrs. June Parker, Mrs. E. C. Johnson, Mrs. Franklin, and Mrs. William Douglas. The second grade leaders — Mrs. Ed Carver and Mrs. James Wade, and the third grade leaders — Mrs. E. O'Neal and Mrs. Jim Tyson, are all members of the Neighborhood Association.

With school out, Pahoekie girl scouts have formally stopped their weekly meetings, but the existing two Brownie troops will have hikes and programs now and then during the summer to retain a nucleus.

Meanwhile, some of the girls including Jo Rachel Carver, Tammie Branch and Wilma Tyson — go to Camp Marjorie Daniels at Jupiter this month as campers. Mrs. Ralph Stanley and Mrs. Burdshaw of Pahoekie already are there to serve for seven weeks as dietitian and kitchen manager, respectively.

Next season? Mrs. Canipe and her army of aides hope to have six brownie and intermediate troops for girls in the second through the eighth grades — organized shortly after school opens. More of the public are behind their efforts. Financial aid and other assistance has come from the Methodist Church, school, PTA and Women's Club.

In another year, a senior scout troop will be organized for girls in the high school age group, so girls can continue their activities leading up to earning a Curved Bar award — roughly equivalent to boy scout Eagle award.

"We work closely with churches and the school," Mrs. Canipe explains. "We try to coordinate our program so that what the girls learn in school they can actually apply to everyday living."

(Note: Pahoekie girl scouts are anxious to locate scout scrapbooks compiled in past years by Mrs. Dan Carpenter and Mrs. Joe Tom Boynton. If you have them, kindly notify Mrs. Canipe at Pahoekie phone 7323.)

AIR FORCE DELAYS VAL'S FLIGHT

UNCLE SAM stepped in to delay plans of Val Gabaldon, right, from qualifying for his private pilot's flying this week when Air Force said: "Right now," OBSERVER ran this pic just a year ago as Val soloed with his father, Gil, on the left.

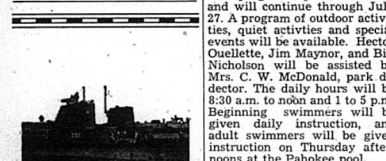

PAHOKEE—Air-minded Val Gabaldon, a member of the 1958 graduating class of Pahokee high school, is determined to become a "chip off the old block," time and the United States Air Force notwithstanding.

Val has logged 50 hours of solo flying in the Civilian Air Patrol Cadet program, mostly under the tutelage of his father, Gil, a CAP first lieutenant and a Glades crop duster.

The young airman needed only 40 solo hours to qualify for his private license and had planned on taking his CAP "check-out flight" with a federal examiner at Lantana this week.

But the Air Force stepped in. Val had signed up with the high boys in Belle Glade on June 6, and understood he'd have a month's time before being called. Last week he was attending the state Future Farmers of America convention at Daytona Beach (he's ex-president of Pahokee FFA chapter) when his mother called him saying the Air Force wanted him pronto.

On Monday, Val's father drove him to Miami where the Air Force receiving board kept him overnight. Tuesday morning he was sworn in, and with a group of fellows was flown to Lackland Air Base in Texas where he'll take basic training. Only 17 years old, he wants to be a mechanic until he becomes

SCOUT REWARD: WINGS, PLANE TRIP TO MIAMI

At a parents night observance of Pahokee Boy Scout Troop 28 in City Park last week, 27 members of the troop received Ground Observer Corps wings from the U.S. Air Force in recognition of the outstanding work the Scouts are doing in manning the Pahokee GOC observation post every Saturday and Sunday.

The USAF was represented at the wing presentation ceremony by M/Sgt. Case, Sgt. Pitts and Sgt. Bernhardt who commended Scoutmasters Louis F. Mims, Edward F. Carver and Ernest Lindrose, Jr., for their well-trained, disciplined troop and pointed out that only the top troops in the state are selected by the USAF for the responsibility of manning a GOC post.

Those receiving wings were Wayne Boynton, Joe Graham, Jimmy Rowse, and Walter R. Ronnie Crosby, Johnny Cook, Johnny Cook, Freddie Hickerson, Carroll Watson, John Davis, Kyle Scott, Roger Watson, Eddie Crews, David Simonson, Allen Pope, David Slaughter, Edward Fountain, Benny Baxter, Robert Lindrose, Lester Lindrose, Charles Rewis, Henry Holt, and Jeff Barwick.

Promises were given. Manning I. Keen, Scout committee chairman, that arrangements would be made by the USAF to fly these Scout observers to Miami for an inspection tour of the GOC Filter Center in that city.

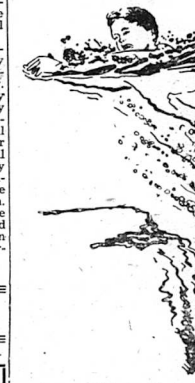

Joe Alderman served as master of ceremonies during the variety program of entertainment presented by Patrol Leaders Freddie Hickerson and Young, Eddie Crews and David Simonson for the enjoyment of parents and other guests.

Featured on the program was the making of fire by friction by Carroll Watson, music by the devils organized Troop 28 band under the direction of David Simonson, Allen Pope's comedy nola dance, accompanied by Roger Watson and Kenneth Williamson, guitarists, and the antics of the "comical horse."

THANK YOU
I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the flowers, cards and many acts of kindness shown me during my recent illness. They will never be forgotten.

Tips on Dips

Keep Your Head

If you get into trouble, keep your head. Don't get panicky. If you are caught in a current, swim with it diagonally to reach shore and safety. If you suddenly step into deep water, don't reach for the sky. Hug the water with your arms and spread your body over the water to keep afloat.

Learn how to meet emergencies by joining a Red Cross swimming class. You can't think of a better sport to save your life.

PENSACOLA—Navy Lt. (jg) Edward E. Stanley, son of Mrs. Ralph Stanley of 396 Bacon Post Rd., Pahokee, is taking in strident flight training here at Correy Field.

A graduate of the University of Florida before entering the service, Lt. Stanley completed a gunnery training program at Foley, Ala., before reporting here. Later he is scheduled to undergo advanced training in combat-type aircraft at Corpus Christi, Tex., or Hutchinson, Kans., before receiving his Navy "Wings of Gold."

NEW LIONS INSTALLED AT BELLE GLADE

Officers for the coming year were installed by the Belle Glade Lions last week with Everett Wurtz of Lake Worth, international councillor for Lions as guest of honor and installing officer. R. E. Holard was installed as president.

Other officers are Ira J. Wierengo, first vice president; Vernon Dexter, second vice president; Junius Harris, third vice president; H. V. Drea, secretary; F. C. Scheenfeld, treasurer; W. L. Cunningham, sr., worth, tail twister; and Bruce Williams, alternate tail twister. One year members of the board of directors installed were Sam Lovell and Emil Wolf; two year directors are V. A. Boots and Dr. Robert Golden. C. W. McDonald is the outgoing president.

Others who will attend later sessions are Beth Hobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Hobson, who will attend from July 8 to 20, and Janet Hotard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hotard; Suzanna Wierengo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wierengo; Beverly Tabit, daughter of Mrs. John Tabit; Francie Ball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ball, jr.; Ellen McCabe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McCabe; and Barbara Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Wolf, who will attend from July 22 to Aug. 3.

BG SCOUTS SAY ADIEU TO 'MASTER DR. OZAKI'

Members of Boy Scout Troop 22, Belle Glade, at their last meeting of the year held Monday evening at Jameson Hall, presented to their Scoutmaster, "Dr. Charlie" Ozaki, a billfold stuffed with money in appreciation of three years of faithful work. The billfold was inscribed with his initials, and with "from the boys of Troop 22."

Dr. Ozaki leaves shortly to study medicine at the University of Florida. He has been employed for four years as assistant soils chemist at the Everglades Experiment Station. Following a period of private practice after he receives his MD, Dr. Ozaki hopes to go into medical research work.

Pahokee Boy Heads Police At Boys State

TALLAHASSEE—Ronnie Hitchcock of Pahokee was elected a chief of police at 1958 Florida Boys' State now being held at the campus of Florida State University.

Ronnie is one of 438 outstanding high school juniors from all parts of the state who are attending this week-long course in learning government by practicing it.

Boys' State, sponsored by the American Legion, is held on the campus every year. Mythical governments of 16 cities are formed and operated for the rest of the week under the supervision of experienced counselors.

Raspberries And Lemon Soda Team Up In A Drink

Casual living is the keynote for summer and that, of course, includes casual entertaining. When folks drop in on a hot afternoon, there is nothing quicker or easier to serve than those good companions, cookies and long, cooling drinks. With a supply of cookies on hand, homemade or the packaged varieties, and bottles of fruit-flavored carbonated beverages chilling in the refrigerator, it's no trouble to serve refreshments to callers in double-quick time, or to provide a between-meal snack for the family.

There are so many ways to use fruit-flavored beverages that you will find it a great convenience to keep an assortment on hand. For different flavor, try mixing two—grape and orange, for instance. A scoop of vanilla or strawberry ice cream added to a glass of root beer is a delicious drink. And the flavors mix well with summer drinks.

Try this one with fresh raspberries and lemon soda. Frozen raspberries may be used, but omit the sugar syrup.

Rosy Glow

1 cup sieved fresh raspberries 1 tablespoon sugar syrup

1—28-oz. bottle lemon soda

Combine raspberries and sugar syrup. Divide among 3 tall glasses.

Fill glasses with ice cold lemon soda. Stir gently to mix.
